

FOOT SPA'S

A relaxing seated hydrotherapy massage dedicated to the feet and calf muscles is commonly known as foot reflexology or a foot spa. This precise treatment helps to soothe aches and pains and rejuvenate the body. A warm foot massage is the most common choice but many appreciate a cool foot massage to help cool the body down after using hot cabins like a sauna or steam room.

There are a number of options foot spas available at Rigo Spa: -

- 1. Manual Spa – Users run the water themselves to a suitable temperature then press a request button for the hydrotherapy massage.
- 2. Electric Spa – Users press either a warm or cool request button. The drain, water fill-up and hydrotherapy bubbles are fully automated and run to a preset program.

We understand that comfortable seating is of prime importance in a luxurious spa area. To help create the feeling of wellbeing for foot spa users we design ergonomic shapes and can also heat the benches. We can group foot spas together in order to create a meeting point and reduce required plant services. Once the design is finalised we will work with you to choose a suitable tile finish.

The Foot Spas come as pre-fabricated units in your chosen finish. All we require is the supply of mechanical, electrical and plumbing services to agreed hand-over points. We can then fix the foot spa in situ, connect to all the services, finish the tiling and commission the unit. This system dramatically reduces time on site.

We can produce foot spa's to almost any bespoke design, including numerous basin options. Please contact us for full details and a competitive quotation.
